a Row at the Cooper Union Meeting Last Night.

After a trying day John Burns, the English labor leader, admitted he was a trifle tired this morning. He had a timely explosion of a quantity of dyna-mite which was to be used in blasting late breakfast with David Holmes, his hour to his mail.

Mr. Burns regretted the existence of factional differences in the ranks of organized labor in America as manifested at Cooper Union last night. He hoped labor organizations the world over would see the folly of dividing their forces and destroying their energy in aquables among themselves. He is strongly opposed to the "politician laborer" who works for individual gain.

"The laboring classes must all work together for the common good; a mere organization is not sufficient. The time has come for administration," he remarked.

Returning to the subject of municipal has come for administration," he remarked.

Returning to the subject of municipal government, which seems to have a fascination for him, Mr. Burns said:
"I would like to spend three-quarters of my time in the court-room of the Lexow Committee. I think I could obtain there a better insight into the true workings of administration of your laws than in years of study on the outside. Such opportunities for getting at the bettom facts and at the true trend of the underground currents and the concealed motives of politicians are not often presented. It was a most valuable two hours I spent there yesterday. I obtained a number of good points from which to make a start in my future investigations. At present my time is limited, and I shall have to wait until my return from Denver before beginning work."

limited, and I shall have to wait until my return from Denver before beginning work."

Col. Hinton, G. A. R. veteran, Socialist and writer, had a "run-in" with Mr. Burns after the close of the Cooper Union meeting. It was in the anteroom near the platform. The Colonel wanted an interview and a photograph for "The Arena" magazine, of Boston. Mr. Burns abruptly told Hinton that he could be seen at the Colonnade Hotel, and turned away. The old Colonel poured out his phials of wrath upon Burns, and the latter says the Colonel insulted him.

Burns, and the latter says the Colonel Burns, and the latter says the Colonel Insulted him.

A crowd gathered about the two angry men, expecting blows, but Burns's escort drew him away, and ten policemen cleared the room. Col. Hinton after-cort drew him away, and ten policemen cleared the room. Col. Hinton afterwards remarked:

"I don't care a — for Burns. He can't snub me, if he is a member of the British Parliament. I'm an American cilizen, and no Englishman can snub me with impunity. I'll resent it warmly, you bet, if he does."

Mr. Burns and Mr. Hoimes will be given a banquet in Clarendon Hall tonish. The threatened outbreak of the German Walters' Union, reported as being indignant because non-union waiters are employed in the hotel, does not worry the labor leaders much. It is claimed that Mr. Gompers has received assurances that there will be no trouble.

They drank freely and later came in contact with Policeman Fowler on Elighth avenue, near Twentieth street. Faubana was defending himself from hoodlums with his walking stick. Fowler started in to arrest the Consul-General, when he was struck on the hand with the cane, breaking the bones of his hand.

Policeman Robinson came to the rescue. He calmed Faubana and arrested him. Later it was discovered that the Consul-General had a blackjack in his hip pocket. He had attempted to draw it for use. On combined charges of assault and carrying a concealed weapon he was held for examination in $1,000 ball by Justice Voorhis.
